

Miss Crook's Invention Challenge

Miss Crook the inventor is over the moon! She's solved the problem of glue sticks running out too quickly by creating the "Glue Pick"! You can use it to pick the remaining glue out of a glue stick when it no longer presses onto the paper. Genius! She's going to make them and sell them for £5.99 each. Schools everywhere will want to buy them!

Your challenge is to design an invention that will solve an everyday problem

You could draw it, label it, write about it, even make it!
Be creative 😊

Think carefully about the everyday problem you want to solve (the more people who experience your problem, the more people will buy your invention) Could it be:

- Soggy biscuits falling into your cup of tea
- Glasses steaming up when it rains/people get hot
- Having to always sharpen your pencil in school
- People standing too close to you when you queue
- Something that annoys you often!
