

Mrs Young's music challenge

I love learning new things and I love music so this challenge incorporates these two loves of mine. Music makes us feel better and I think we could all do with that at the moment.

I challenge you to make music - in any way you can. You may be lucky enough to have a musical instrument and can learn to play a new song, or part of a song. Even if you don't, your voice is an instrument! You could write some words for a song or learn to sing a song you like. You could make up a rap, if that's what you're interested in. You could even make your own musical instrument or make a set of drums with your parents' pots and pans!

I would love to see what you come up with. It would be especially nice to see your lovely faces, so if you feel brave enough, send us a video of you performing. If you don't feel brave, don't worry - send us your song lyrics, a description of what you did or a photo. I promise to do the same. I am going to try to learn to play a new song over the Easter holidays.
